PHILADELPHIA, WILMINGTON AND BALTIMORE RAILROAD. PHILADELPHIA, June 1, 1844.

Since the Road has been under the present management, the expense have been gradually decreasing, and the Road improved by the neumanet character of the repairs. They have paid off the floating debt by a loan payable in three yearly in-Malments of $00 606 each at 5 per cent interest.

ralments of $00.000 each at 5 per cent interest.

From the annexed statement, (which, it is thought by the bestinformed on the subject, will be more than remized,) it is apparent that the Company will be able this year to pay their islands, one-third of the Flonting Debt, $50,000 to the Smking Pund, and leave a large surplus to the stockholders. A very large increase in the receipts may be safely authorpated next

With a sure monopoly of the great Southern and Western revel between the two Citics, and such representations as can made of the affairs of this Company, there is no doubt of their ability to effect a permanent ions abroad at a reduced rate distarcs, sufficient to pay off their entire indebtedness, and by meting a small yearly Sinking Fund, leave a large portion of the receipts to the stockholders, thus making it a regular divisional state. bend-paying stock.
